In a courtroom where people are not physically allowed to lie, the most unthinkable true stories emerge. Everyone must deliver a speech or storytelling pertaining what their lives were like: drama, thriller, love, hate, and sorrow, are just a few of the trays that each person's story contains. Regardless of how malicious or righteous their lives were, at the end, each person may have a second chance. But it'd be up to The Hearing Court which person would have such second chance. This time there was no need for a lawyer or a read of their inalienable rights. This time they had no rights: only a courtroom filled of anxious and unbiased listeners who would not have sympathy to one's tears, begging, or melancholy case. In a court where time doesn't matter, and love and hope dance together, speakers try their best to recount what could be their last story. "A masterpiece.....each story make can you feel connected and in love with the narrator...." - VOLGHA "Superb... Amparo Santana really knows how to create an outstanding, unforgettable story.....We need more books like this one. – Associated Press
